

1. There are no specific things I point out that want to learn better at the current moment that will lead the team to move forward. If anything, how to conclude the work in good manner and maybe how I should implement the methodology used in this course in different aspects of my own life and any projects that future me might embark on.
2. This week I was fully committed to implementing sounds in the game. Next week I will help with the final report of the program and polish the finished game.
3. I downgraded a lot of the sound implementation because of the risk of the sound effects being too overwhelming combined with the music.
